

VOLUNTEER TRAVEL

Our Benefits to Communities Around the World

All of our projects overseas are based in the local community and are local initiatives. When you travel with us, you will stay in locally run accommodation and travel on locally owned transport. In this way we can ensure that the part of your placement fee assigned for transport and accommodation goes directly into the local economy. That means that before you've even lifted a finger on your project, you've already made an important contribution to the local economy.

Your Experience

When you travel with i-to-i, you'll experience a truly unique travel adventure which will change your life forever. We're all different, which is why we'll all experience a unique voyage. In addition to gaining a deep immersion into a new culture, you'll learn valuable skills for life which will open-up your eyes to the world and warm your heart in the knowledge that you're giving something real and lasting back to the places you visit.

Our Support for Our Volunteers

We appreciate how special our volunteers are and offer our full support every step of the way. Our in-country coordinators are on-hand for you while you're in-country, providing airport pick-up and arrival orientation while we also provide 24/7 support for all our volunteer travelers.

Wildlife Volunteering Abroad

Wildlife volunteers experience a truly unique journey by getting up-close to some of the world's most endearing creatures in exotic locations. As a wildlife volunteer you can get your hands dirty by helping to clear trails, or roll your sleeves up to cater for the daily needs of animals - whether it's feeding baby lions in a Lion Park in South Africa, dolphin conservation in South Africa, developing educational literature programmes to help support pandas in China, or safeguard the existence of the leatherback turtles in Costa Rica.

Volunteer Building Abroad

If the idea of getting your hands dirty and offering your manual labor appeals, then i-to-i's volunteer building projects could be the most rewarding volunteer travel option for you. Whether it's building homes for underprivileged families in Costa Rica, Kenya or Honduras, international volunteers roll their sleeves up and get directly involved with building programmes in some of the most beautiful destinations across the globe.

Volunteer Teaching Abroad

If you enjoy working with children and want to get some valuable teaching experience under your belt, volunteer teaching abroad could be the ideal travel option for you. Reap the benefits of gaining valuable life experience, while absorbing a fascinating local culture and interacting with local children to help develop their future.

Volunteer Work with Children

Volunteering to work with children abroad is a popular volunteer travel option for travellers with a genuine fondness of children who want to experience a life-changing opportunity to help develop underprivileged children's skills and equip them for a brighter future in further education. Whether you choose to volunteer with children in Africa, Asia, or South America, we offer volunteer work with children in over 20 countries, so you're sure to find the volunteer project in a country that suits you.

Community Development Volunteer Work Abroad

Ecotourism in the truest sense of the word, community volunteer work abroad encompasses a huge spectrum of international volunteering opportunities, ranging from community work with children in Africa to building homes for local communities in South America. All community volunteer projects share the same core value; they make a vital difference to the development and future of communities abroad. i-to-i volunteers play an important role by providing skills and paving a positive path for children in orphanages, shelters and schools.

Conservation Volunteering Abroad

With countries across the globe more accessible than ever, the old cliché 'the world is shrinking' is increasingly heard, but we want to shout about the carbon footprint we leave on the destinations we visit, which is at the heart of i-to-i's promise to encourage travellers to leave a positive impression through worthwhile conservation volunteer projects abroad.

Sports Coaching — Looking for a fun and physical experience?

You could have an inspiring adventure away from your arm chair, playing an active role in the development of young athletes across the globe. You don't have to be a sports star but a little sporting talent will go a long way! Our sports projects include soccer coaching in the Caribbean, cricket coaching in Sri Lanka and for those of you looking for some fun work experience, we have an internship at a surf school in the Caribbean. Whichever sports project you choose, one thing is guaranteed: your efforts will benefit disadvantaged young people from some of the poorest pockets of the world.

Student Internships and Work Experience

Our range of internships and work experience placements allow you to develop new skills in a totally unique environment. These placements run from 2 to 24 weeks in fields such as health and medicine, marketing, tourism, sports and media. Whatever project you decide upon, one thing is guaranteed: your efforts will have a lasting and positive impact and the experience you'll gain will put you one step ahead of the competition in your next job interview!
